Protection to American Labor.

We renew our faith in the poticy of protection to American labor. In the policy our industries have been established, diversified and maintained. By protecting the home market the commettion has been situated and producting the home market the commettion cheapened. Opportunity to the inventive genius of our people has been secured and wages in every department of labor maintained at high rates, highen ow than ever before, always distinguishing our working people in their better conditions of life from those of an competing country.

For Commercial Re ignocity.

Enjoying the blessings of American common schools, secure in the right of saff-government, and protected in the or cupancy of their own markets, their ron stantly increasing knowledge and saff have enabled them finally to enter the markets of the world. We favor the as sociated policy of reciprocity so directs as to open our markets on favorable terms for what we do not ourselves produce in return for free foreign markets.

A Piedge to Reduce War Taxes.

The Dingley act, amended to provide sufficient revenue for the conduct of the war has no well performed its work that it has been possible to reduce the war debt in the sum of $80,000,000. So ample are the government's revenues, and so great is the public confidence in the integrity of its obligation that its newly funded two per cent, bonds sell at a premium. The country is now justified in expecting, and it will be the policy of the republican party to bring about a reduction of the war taxes.

For a Department of Commerce.

In the interest of our expanding commerce, we recommend that congress oreate a department of commerce and industries in the charge of a secretary with a seat in the cabinet. The United States consultar systems should be reorganized under the supervision of this new department upon such a basis of appointment and tenure as will render it atill more serviceable to the nation's increasing trade.

The American government must protect the person and property of every citizen wherever they are wrongfully violated of placed in peril.

all works of education and industry.

The President's Foreign Poiley.

President McKinioy has conducted the foreign affairs of the United States with distinguished credit to the American people. In releasing us from the vestatious conditions of a European alliance for the government of Samon, his course is superiathy to be commended. By securing to our undivided control the most important island of the Samona group, and the best harbor in the southern Pacific, every American interest has been safeguarded. guarded.

We approve the annexation of the Hawallan islands to the United States.

The Hague Treaty Indoresd. Monroe doctrine. The provisions of The Higgse convention were wisely regarded whose President McKinies tendered his friendly offices in the interest of peace between Great Britain and the Houth African republic. While the American government must continue the policy prescribed by Washington, affirmed by every succeeding president and imposed upon us by The Hague treaty, of non-intervention he European controversies, the American people carnettly hope that a way may soon be found, honorable allies to both contenting parties to terminate to both contenting parties to terminate

In accepting by the treaty of Paris the just responsibility of our victories in the spanish war, the president and the senate won the undoubted approval of the American people. No other course was possible than to destroy Spain's soverelighty throughout the West Indies and in the Philippine islands. That course created our responsibility before the world and with the unorganized population whom our intervention had freed from Spain, to provide for the maintenance of law and order, and for the sentablishment of good government and for the performance of international obbligations. Our authority could not be less than our responsibility, and wherever savereign rights were extended it became the high duty of the government to maintain its authority, to put down armed insurrection said to confer the blessings of self-government constant with their weltare and our duttes shall be secured to them by law.
